CRS Kosher/Nut Policy:

No biblically prohibited foods, including pork or shellfish may be brought in or served on CRS property. Items obviously containing meat or dairy may not be served during the same course of a multi-course meal. Single course meals (e.g., buffets) may either have meat or dairy products served, but not both. Meat served may be, but does not have to be, kosher.

CRS strives to be nut-sensitive to the extent reasonably possible, although CRS can make no promises that food served on CRS premises was prepared at a nut-free facility or is entirely free from traces of nuts. It is CRS policy that no nuts or any food item made with or containing nuts be served on CRS premises.

Please consider contacting City Harvest to pick-up unopened trays/platters of food. As long as the tray is refrigerated and the total amount is over 100 lbs., they will pick up as soon as possible (typically the next business day) from Rodeph Sholom. To donate, please contact the food sourcing team at City Harvest at 646-412-0758.

You might also consider contacting Rescuing Leftover Cuisine (RLC), a 501(c)3 nonprofit dedicated to stopping food waste and hunger. RLC will rescue excess food after your event and bring it to those who need it at homeless shelters and other agencies nearby. RLC partners with individuals, event planners/caterers and venues. For a tax-deductible fee, RLC will coordinate the logistics to rescue and distribute any amount of excess food; no minimum required. For more information visit www.rescuingleftovercuisine.org. To arrange a pickup, please contact eventpickups@rescuingleftovercuisine.org at least 3 days before your event.

CRS appreciates every effort you make to help with food insecurity. Please let Rachael Evans, our Operations Director, know if such plans are made by contacting revans@crsnyc.org.
